Why do some of the items – children’s books, for example – appear to cost more than if I bought them elsewhere?

Before Library materials find their way into the collection, they must first be selected and prepared by the staff – covered, stamped, bar-coded, security stripped and entered into the catalog database. In addition, the Library often opts to purchase higher cost “library editions” of books and audio-visual materials, as well as more durable technology and equipment that can better withstand intense public usage.

How do I know my donation will go toward the Giving Opportunity I selected?

Giving Opportunity donations will be processed as restricted gifts and will fund the need of your choice. If for some reason your donation cannot be used for the item you selected, you will be contacted by the RPL Foundation who will work with you to try to find a different library need toward which you might redirect your donation.

Is my donation tax deductible?

YES! The IRS has determined that your contribution to the Foundation, bequest, or securities transfer is exempt from the federal income tax under section 501c3 of the Internal Revenue Code.
